

Gilbert Kirsch has been trained as an organic chemist at the Universities of Strasbourg and Metz. He started his academic career in 1973 at the University of Metz (now University of Lorraine) where he holds currently a position of Emeritus Professor of Organic Chemistry. He had a postdoc at Oak Ridge National Laboratory (TN- USA) in the Nuclear Medicine Group and was also invited scientist at Kodak (Rochester, NY-USA) at the University of Minho (Portugal), Emory University (Atlanta, GA-USA) and Sapienza University in Rom (Italy). He published about 300 papers, chapters in Patai's Functional group series, in Houben-Weyl, in Wiley's Chemistry of Heterocyclic Compounds and in Springer's Selenium and Tellurium Chemistry and was an editor for Springer's book about "Recent advances in redox active plant and microbial products" ..